MEN KILLED ON STEAMER COLON.

The steamship Colon, half-masted and showing other evidences of distress, came into Colon yesterday. She had been badly battered by the hurricane encountered Sunday.

Three members of her crew lost their lives while engaged in the hold repairing a water tank.

The Colon belongs to the Panama Railroad Company. She left New York September 10, and was due to arrive yesterday. She encountered the hurricane at a point 40 miles north of Walling Island. The wind blew 100 miles an hour and tremendous seas soon were sweeping over the vessel. The staterooms and the dining saloon were flooded, one of her smokestacks was carried away, three boats were washed overboard, and the wireless telegraph apparatus was dismantled. Orders were given that no passengers be allowed on deck, and the travelers had to spend Sunday and Sunday night in the dining saloon. The water got to the mail bags and the registered and ordinary mail was badly damaged. Sunday night passed with the ship laboring through the storm and the passengers huddled below in a state of panic.

The Colon brought in 135 saloons and 20 deck passengers. Her officers declare that the hurricane of Sunday was the worst storm they ever experienced in all their lives.

HEROIC GIRL SAVES LITTLE SISTER.

Familiarity with firearms from baby-hood served Miss Irma Tulles, a Long Beach woman, in good stead last week in Silverado Canyon when her accomplishment gave her the steady aim and firm trigger finger to shoot and kill a huge rattlesnake just as the reptile was preparing to spring and sink its poisoned fangs into her sister, Altha.

Miss Tulles is an ardent devotee of the rifle, has handled guns since she was five years old and is a crack shot. Her favorite weapon is a .22 caliber rifle, which she always carries in the mountains.

Two weeks ago the young woman went with her sister and other relatives into the mountains for a camping trip. On the day she saved her little sister's life she was attracted by screams from the mountainside. Rifle in hand she sped up the rough incline and came on the sister standing a few feet from the big snake, screaming in terror.

Instantly realizing the danger and necessity of quick action, Miss Tulles took quick aim and fired. The swaying head of the rattler was a difficult target, but when the smoke cleared the reptile was uncoiling in death—its head shot off.

FOLLOWS FRIEND IN DEATH.

After writing a letter to a girl, telling her he would be dead by the time the letter reached her, Gustave E. Seels, 27 years old, a pressman, shot himself in the head in his room on east Fifteenth street, New York, Thursday. Seels' death did not become known until yesterday morning, when an attractive looking young woman called at the house and told Mrs. John Faytak that she had just received a letter from Seels, saying that he was going to commit suicide.

Mrs. Faytak and the young woman went to Seels' room, where they found his body stretched on the floor.

On the bureau in the room was a morning newspaper with a death notice marked, and a clipping from a Washington paper with this heading: "Describes his own death and gas overcomes him." The article told of the suicide of a Washington printer, and across the clipping was written, "My friend."

TWO MONSTER FISH FIGHT BIG WHALE.

Campers along the beach between Brown, Point and Dash Point report a sea fight that took place near the shore between two blackfish, each about 80 feet long, and a whale 60 feet long.
The blackfish apparently believed the leviathan was intruding on their preserve, and were the aggressors, while the whale bent every energy to get away. The three monsters dived and wallowed, creating a great commotion and churning the water to foam.
The whale finally appeared to grow fatigued, and tried to throw off his pursuer by running close to shore. When it appeared that he would run aground if he came any nearer, he suddenly turned and thrashed out into deep water, with his enemies in hot pursuit. A moment later he dived, the blackfish sinking out of sight after him.
